VESTA

This year, we chose to continue along the path we have already undertaken, enhancing what works best: color, transparency, and printed graphics. Three elements that define Vesta's visual identity and become true narrative tools, capable of uniting different products within a single, coherent language.

We worked on creating a harmonious, clear, and recognizable collection, in which each object naturally interacts with the others. Color, used with restraint, adds character and enhances the transparency of the materials as well as light, a central theme for us. We elevated acrylic crystal and ensured continuity in the printed line, which has now become a signature of our design.

The core of the presentation revolves around two pillars of our DNA: accessories and lighting. These are areas in which we have invested, as they represent a natural extension of the Vesta offering and help points of sale create richer, more cross-functional displays.

Our goal is to offer products that are not only beautiful, but also coherent, recognizable, marketable, and useful in building a clear and impactful narrative for your customers.

Iride

The Iride collection brings together light and matter in a poetic dialogue of transparencies and precious refractions. Vases and lamps in colored acrylic crystal are designed to bring sunlight to life, transforming it into ever-changing reflections.

The name evokes the iris of the human eye, with its shifting pigments, as well as Iris, the rainbow of Greek mythology.

The lamps, the heart of the collection, are luminous sculptures by day, casting reflections; by night, they become guardians of a soft, intimate atmosphere.

Plus:

- Lamp collection: available in 2 sizes and 4 colors
- Vase collection: available in 2 sizes and 5 colors

Armonia

A collection born from the encounter between faux leather and acrylic crystal—two materials seemingly far apart that, here, come together to find balance.

The Armonia line offers tableware items (placemats, coasters, and bottle mats), distinguished by graphics that blend geometry and botanical motifs in a delicate rhythm of lines and small flowers.

Today, this “contamination” is our creative key: a way to innovate, surprise, and shape objects that tell a story of evolution, research, and freedom in design.

light and rhythm*

Ginevra

The Ginevra collection, developed in collaboration with the Mattei Carella studio, is inspired by the image of a flower blooming on the table, bringing poetry and light to everyday moments.

Designed for those who want a table full of emotion, Ginevra offers four color palettes, each with its own character.

The name means “luminous spirit” and reflects what the collection brings: warmth, presence, and conviviality.
